

I'm Not Fussy

Laurie Madigan is credited with coming up with the name for this watch. She noticed that anytime the guys were picking chases, no one really seemed to mind where they were watching and often guys would say, "Doesn't matter to me", or "I'm not picky", etc., etc. One day, in the fall of 2009, before Sarah & Laurie went back to the farm, her dad asked her where she wanted to watch in the morning. She replied, "I'm not fussy." In the morning she found herself at the watch just past Tom Madigan's on the Buck Mountain chase. "I'm Not Fussy" seemed to be a great name for the watch. She thought it was mostly a joke, but by the end of the week, the name seemed to have caught on with the rest of the hunters.

Most often, the hunters are quite unselfish about where they will watch. It's evident that they really are there for the fun of being outdoors, listening to the wind in the pines, the ravens squawking, and the dogs on a chase. Seeing, or shooting at a deer can always wait for another day. Now, those who aren't fussy will truly have a runway to watch at.
