

Jason's

This is the watch between the camp and Aumond's Bay road on the chase known as the "Blacksmith Shop". It used to be known as Loek's (Dick Loek's) and it was changed to "Jason's" a few years back. The reason is that he shot his first deer at that runway on Sunday, November 8th 1992. It was his first year hunting with a license. The guys decided to chase the Blacksmith Shop, after church, on the middle weekend. We're not sure which dog of ours was taken in, but it was the O'Brien's dog (Whiskey, was his name) that brought the doe out to Jason. The O'Brien's chased this doe down to us, where she crossed the Aumond's Bay road. The doe most likely ran into our dog man which forced her out to Jason (Madigan). She came running out the runway and Jason was ready. 'Plicko', down she went on the first shot.
