

The White Spot

On Friday, November 10, 1989, the runway just past Jerry's Skidway, on the Icy Hill chase, got named "The White Spot". The night before, Bryan bet a buck with Vincent that the next day he could shoot a deer on the white spot. (It could have been the whiskey talking). The next morning, on the second chase a doe was chased out to Bryan on this very runway. It stopped, lifted its head and looked straight at him. One shot at its white spot and two shots at a tree echoed through those Hills.
